"UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT" Life is all about decisions. The very decision that you make will determine if you act in failure or success. Decisions don't determine who you are but only where you go. The devil has messed humanity up with the thought that because they made the wrong decisions for their lives that this is the end of the road. I want you to know that decisions are only acts not permanent fixtures for life. Failures in life are results of bad acts not a bad person. The devil's deception is to trick you into condemnation so you can meditate on how bad, ugly and insignificant to life you are. This entrapment will lead you into operating in fear for the rest of your life because you will begin to wonder what other people think about you if you came out of your shell. Ladies it is time for you to be released! It is time for you to come out of the shell of worldly conviction and make a decision "I am going to live". My question to you, "What are you waiting on"? Strive for a 5: Preparing for the AP® World History Exam provides a thorough student review of world history with tips for test preparation. Designed to align with the third edition of Ways of the World, Strive for a 5 gives students the practice they need to succeed in the redesigned AP® World History course and on the exam. The book has a study guide section that corresponds to each textbook chapter and a test preparation section. A step-by-step guide designed to help the serious traveler on the journey of life to identify his or her life goals, to create a plan for achieving them, and to begin putting those plans into effect. It is written in plain, every-day language, and is broken down into bite-sized, easy to digest chapters that provide essential background information, as well as easy-to-understand strategies to help the reader get through his or her current crisis, successfully. The book is divided into a number of segments. It begins with The Basics, which suggests a primary life goal of personal happiness and reviews the underlying principles of human development. Next comes Tips on Types, which explains and expands on the psychological type theory of Carl Jung, popularized by the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator. Who Am I?, which follows, uses a brief quiz game to identify the readers personality type. This is followed by another short, game-like segment, What Do I Want?, that helps to clarify values. How Can I Get It? is a detailed blueprint for personal development. Mutual Support outlines the skills needed to nurture long-term, mutually supportive relationships. And, finally, We Need to Talk! teaches specific, essential communication techniques. "In the morning, while it was still very dark, he got up and went out to a deserted place, and there he prayed" (Mark 1:35). Jesus taught by his words and actions. He went by himself to pray when he was tired, when faced with upcoming trying events, or when he just wanted to be alone in the presence of his Lord. He gave us guidance about what to pray, how to pray, and why to pray, and was very familiar with the Hebrew Scriptures. Thus, if we want to become Jesus' disciple we should follow his model and invest time and emotional energy into prayer, Bible study, and reflection. Nourishment For The Spiritual Pilgrimage provides an aid for those who want to participate in the spiritual pilgrimage of becoming a lifelong disciple of Jesus Christ. It offers insight and support for those who daily want to turn their hearts, souls, and minds to God's will in their lives, as they strive to help in bringing about God's kingdom in this present time. There are countless other devotionals, but hopefully this can offer something that many of the others may not, a specific focus on the concept of discipleship. Classic Taoist wisdom applied to the world of parenting, guiding mothers and fathers to meaningful conversations and relationships with their children. William C. Martin has freshly reinterpreted the Tao Te Ching to speak directly and clearly to the most difficult of modern tasks -- parenting. With its combination of free verse and judicious advice, The Parent's Tao Te Ching addresses the great themes that permeate the Tao and that support loving parent- child relationships: responding without judgment, emulating natural processes, and balancing between doing and being. "A masterpiece. William Martin captures the essence of what it means to raise a child. Urgently needed, this precious book lifts parenting to new heights."-- Judy Ford, author of Wonderful Ways to Love a Child and Wonderful Ways to Be a Family Strive for a

To Strive for African Greatness is about a people emerging from slavery, but continuing to be victims of socio-political ills that must be overcome. The problems include widespread strife, dictatorships, corruption, rising crime rates, rampant disease, starvation, economic disparity and mushrooming slums. According to Vincent Mapesi Gondwe, We, the Africans, more than any other people, should strive to make significant contributions toward perfecting our life as human beings. The author hopes his autobiographical novel portrays a dream that will awaken and nourish similar dreams in young Africans. He writes of his heightened awareness nurtured during his secondary school and university years spent in the U.S. while reaching for his dreams. I began it in the early 1950s, with the introduction of Western formal education into my life, which stirred higher aspirations. To Strive for African Greatness is a story made all the stronger by its use of a narrator, and for the pictures and sketches that strengthen the narration about revolutionaries.
