Catalogue of Rare and Valuable Autograph Letters, Historical Documents and Authors' Original Manuscripts Aug 26 2022 Excerpt from Catalogue of Rare and Valuable Autograph Letters, Historical Documents and Authors' Original Manuscripts: On Sale by J. Pearson and Co Madame Royale, the fearless and unfortunate daughter of Marie Antoinette and Louis XVI, was written whilst the Princess was imprisoned in the Temple during the Terror. Manuscripts written by this Princess, the Orphan of the Temple, are of the greatest rarity. Never, perhaps, has any human being before or since been called upon to suffer such severe trials as this noble lady. She was but fourteen when the throne of France was wrested from her father, Louis XVI, and the Royal Family incarcerated in the prison of the Temple - her father and mother left it only to mount the scaffold, and the young Princess was forced to mourn the loss by the guillotine not only of the King her father and the Queen her mother, but also of her aunt, the Princess Elizabeth, and (by consumption) her brother, Louis XVII. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

The Hunt for History Feb 26 2020 Nathan Raab, America's preeminent rare documents dealer, describes his years as the Sherlock Holmes of historical artifacts—questing after precious finds and determining their authenticity—and he shows us what the past can tell us about the present. A box uncovered in a Maine attic with twenty letters written by Alexander Hamilton; a handheld address to Congress by President George Washington; a long-lost Gold Medal that belonged to an American President; a note that Winston Churchill wrote to his captor when he was a young POW in South Africa; paperwork signed and filled out by Amelia Earhart when she became the first woman to fly the Atlantic; an American flag carried to the moon and back by Neil Armstrong; an unpublished letter written by Albert Einstein, discussing his theory of relativity. Each day, people from all over the world contact Nathan Raab for help understanding what they have, what it might be worth, and how to sell it. The Raab Collection's president, Nathan is a modern-day treasure hunter and one of the world's most prominent dealers of historical artifacts. Most weeks, he travels the country, scours auctions, or fields phone calls and emails from people who think they may have found something of note in a grandparent's attic. In The Hunt for History, Raab shares some fascinating stories about his professional exploits: spotting a letter from British officials that secured the Rosetta Stone; discovering a piece of the first electric cable laid by Edison; restoring a fragmented letter from Andrew Jackson that led to the infamous Trail of Tears; and locating copies of missing audio that had been recorded on Air Force One as the plane brought JFK's body back to Washington. Whether it's the first report of Napoleon's death or an unpublished letter penned by Albert Einstein to a curious soldier, every document and artifact Raab uncovers comes with a spellbinding story—and often offers new insights into a life we thought we knew.
