Clinical Governance Review Jan 20 2023 Sheffield Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust is a three star trust. It was formed on 1 April 2001, following the merger of Northern General Hospital and Central Sheffield University Hospitals NHS Trust. The new trust is a large and complex organisation, incorporating the Royal Hallamshire Hospital, Northern General Hospital, Jessop Wing, Weston Park Hospital and Charles Clifford Dental Hospital. It is one of the largest NHS Trusts in the UK, employing over 12,000 staff with an annual revenue budget in excess of £420 million. For this report, CHI looked at clinical governance in the trust and spoke to staff in three clinical teams: stroke, colorectal cancer and gynaecology disorders. CHI concluded that the human resources (HR) strategy needs to be implemented. The trust needs to develop and implement an education and training strategy, and associated policies. The backlog of unfiled patient information needs to be resolved urgently. Communication between referring clinicians from local hospitals and trust clinicians needs to be reviewed and improved. Communication within and between directorates needs to be improved to facilitate the sharing of best practice. The trust needs to further improve discharge arrangements for patients in partnership with other members of the health and social care community.

Hospital efficiency analysis in England and Germany. What lessons can be learned from each other? Dec 27 2020

Master's Thesis from the year 2015 in the subject Medicine - Hospital Environment, Clinical Medicine, grade: 80, University of Hertfordshire, language: English, abstract: This report analyses the efficiency of hospitals in England and Germany. Data Envelopment Analysis (DEA) is utilised to estimate a best practice frontier and to evaluate the performance characteristics of different hospitals in the two countries. The measurement categories of input factors are represented by the hospital size (amount of beds), number of wards, number of employed medical specialists, sum of total inpatient admissions, demographic environment (population density in population/km<sup>2</sup>), and one output factor (mortality rates). Regarding these factors, the main findings reveal that the allocation of inefficient hospitals in England is broadly spread and, therefore, the mean efficiency value of hospitals in England is 74% (whereas 100% describes efficient units). In contrast, the mean efficiency value of German hospitals equates to 91%. Consequently, the allocation of inefficient German hospitals is less spread and the overall performance of hospital health supply is more efficient in Germany compared to England. Most remarkably, the amount of inpatient admissions is one of the main drivers for efficiency and especially the English hospitals suffer from high numbers of inpatient admissions, which may be reduced due to improvements in the primary healthcare supply provided by general practitioners.

Critical Care Outreach Oct 13 2019 Following the publication of the department of health document - Comprehensive Critical Care (2000), the majority of hospitals in England have set up Critical Care Outreach Teams. The Government provided a significant sum of money for hospitals to set up outreach services. There are now calls for an evaluation of their impact. The book is set out in five key sections. Each section features chapters that address the conceptual and real life issues. In each section there is a chapter, set out as a case study example, demonstrating how innovative practices and service developments are going on around critical care outreach. The book will draw upon the knowledge, experience and clinical expertise of senior critical care nurses and doctors from a critical care network. The book will have a definite practical application and will provide tips to enhance practice. *

Chapters contain useful 'how to' guides, prompts for critical thinking and case studies. * Very little has previously been published on this topic

Polymyalgia Rheumatica and Giant Cell Arteritis Feb 15

2020 In the present monograph, we offer current insights into polymyalgia rheumatica and giant cell arthritis. Both diseases are typical for advanced age, and their incidences increase with aging. Both diseases are a center point of interest not only for rheu- tologists, gerontologists, ophthalmologists or neurologists, but also for general prac- tioners. Early diagnosis and rapid treatment, mainly with glucocorticoids can save one of the most precious senses-vision. Damage to other organs (heart, aorta, co- nary arteries, liver, lungs, kidneys), which are supplied by the arteries affected by ischemic syndrome in the setting of giant cell arthritis, has serious consequences as well. Late diagnosis of giant cell arthritis can have fatal consequences for affected patients. It is a matter of fact that the human population is aging. Therefore, more attention has to be paid not only to diagnosis, clinical course and treatment of rheumatic diseases in elderly, but also to their genetic, immunologic, endocrinologic, chronobiologic mechanisms, and state-of-the-art diagnostic modalities. I am convinced that the interdisciplinary research of the diseases will allow us to diagnose and treat the rheumatic diseases even faster and more effectively in the future.
